

Rambling Roommates: Round... TWO!!
By Eri "Godah!" Drury

If you are feeling angry, use the very edge of this card to gently brush the tip of your nose, while contacting your skin with the card as little as possible. You win when you're not angry any more--reward your victory by drinking some...

...water.

Rambling Roommates: Round... TWO!!
By Eri "Godah!" Drury

A game for at least 3 players. Each player picks ONE of the characters on the image on the other side of this card. Then, all players have a conversation in which they imagine themselves in the persona of the character they picked, without telling the others. When a player thinks they've guessed the identity of everyone else at the table, they must announce so, and then all players reveal their identities. If the guessing player was right, they win. Otherwise, no one wins.
